

TAYLOR, RICE and BROWN
T R + B
ARCHITECTS

Taylor, Rice + Brown Architects is a firm specifically formed by Rice+ Brown Architects in NJ to design Florida's and the Low Country of South Carolina's best Architecture.

Although its beginnings are rooted in residential designs, we have worked closely with a variety of high-end Golf Clubs to create great architecture as well as functional golf needs.

Christopher Rice is an Architect and an avid golfer, serving on multiple Golf Club committees over the years to help NJ coast Golf Clubs improve their buildings and grounds.

Chris served on the MRGC Board of Trustees as Chairman of Buildings and Grounds, helping the Club complete a new addition and renovation to better serve the membership. Chris has also been a Consultant to many Clubs helping them to prepare for major changes and always keeping aesthetics in the foreground while achieving the golf specific needs of the Club.

"Chris Rice brings a level of professionalism and detail to Architecture that is unmatched. He is very passionate about his work at Golf Clubs and it shows..."

Chris Dymek, Head Golf Professional, MRGC

"At MRGC when I was a Trustee, we had other Architects interview and express vision, but you came in with innovative and fresh ideas, and a superior plan that the membership fell in love with and have thoroughly enjoyed for many years..."

Chris Housen, Trustee MRGC

"The team incorporated the beauty of the landscape and it is simply amazing, it is among the best we have seen"

Michael Heaney
